One MVP (Setting up a basic site with features for each user group)	End of December
--	-----------------

Finishing the Project	End of Winter Term
-----------------------	--------------------

Overall Project Risks
------------------------------

Scope Creep
-------------

Not being able to get the later features done, especially the more elaborate ones
---

Not being able to meet the needs of our users, at least compared to existing alternatives
---

Not getting the initial work done and needing to rush near the end of term
--

Getting stuck on the technology, having to learn a bunch of new libraries to implement those features
---
